1. A few Soviet citizens were resident in T'uingsien (110-39, 39-55) at the end of July 1949.
2. In the early part of July 1949, the former Japanese radio station* located three miles west of T'uingsien discharged all its employees. Some of the discharged employees reported that the new personnel at the station were one-third Chinese and two-thirds foreign "big-noses." One of the former employees believed that the station is now being used for direct contact with the USSR.
